

Program outline

Sequenced Departmental Program.

All four Departmental Training clusters as a sequenced program over one quarter, one cluster per fortnight, with a final cross-cluster synthesis session. This is how the most operationally serious organizations engage.

For
Functional leads and their direct reports across
HR, Procurement, R&D, Marketing, Finance, Legal,
Operations and Facilities.

Format
Four full-day Trainings over one quarter, one per fortnight, plus a synthesis session.

What it is for.

All four clusters over one quarter, one cluster per fortnight, closed by a cross-cluster synthesis session.

Why clients book it.

When a sustainability mandate keeps getting reassigned and no team is taking technical ownership.

How the program runs.

One cluster per fortnight. Each Training is a full day with eight to twelve functional leads, built on the data and workflows that function owns. A 90-minute Future-Fit Crash Course goes out two weeks before each one. The program closes with a session that brings the four Functional Heat Maps together.

Fortnight 1

People and Supply Chain

HR and Procurement. Social resilience and Scope 3 transparency.

Fortnight 2

Product and Growth

R&D and Marketing. Circular design and product transparency.

Fortnight 3

Capital and Governance

Finance and Legal. Non-financial risk.

Fortnight 4

Net Zero Operations

COO and Facilities. Operational mathematics.

Close

Cross-cluster synthesis

The four Functional Heat Maps and 90-day Roadmaps read side by side, so priorities that cross departments get one owner.

Format and investment.
